Explore Rich History
in Queens County, Nova Scotia this Summer

Queens County Museum

Privateering was one of the most profitable, dangerous and misunderstood professions of the 1700's. Learn about one of the Maritimes most interesting and legal professions of the time period.

Did you ever wonder what a rickety complaint was, or how you would cure it? Did you know that onions placed in the ears was supposed to relieve an earache?

Come and learn about the first peoples in this area. With a large collection of artifacts you can see up close as well as some that are hands on, you are sure to come away with some very interesting information.

Hours & Admission ~ 109 Main Street, Liverpool
June 1st - October 15th
Monday-Saturday: 9:30 am - 5:30 pm
Sunday: 1:00 pm - 5:30 pm

Adult: $4 Child: $1
Admission includes free entry to Perkins House

Perkins House

"A Colonial Treasure", this house was built in 1766 for Simeon Perkins, merchant, judge and Member of the Assembly. Let 21st century technology transport you Colonial Liverpool in the 1700s. Like friendly spectres from the 18th century, Simeon Perkins and his family will introduce you to family life during an exciting time in Nova Scotia's history. Meet our ghosts and help them reveal their fascinating stories and diverse opinions using interactive memory boxes.

Meet Simeon as he prepares for his day. Follow his wife Elizabeth and servant Mary Fowler, working in the pantry, as they share confidences about life in a busy household. Listen to the children's stories and watch them play marbles in the upstairs bedroom.

Hours & Admission ~ 105 Main Street, Liverpool
June 1st - October 15th
Monday-Saturday: 9:30 am - 5:30 pm
Sunday: 1:00 pm - 5:30 pm

Adult: $4 Child: $1
Admission includes free entry to Queens Co.

Exploring The Exciting And Stunning South Shore

The South Shore is a place of stunning natural beauty including long strands of white sand beaches, craggy coastline and the many lighthouses that remain in evidence of our longstanding maritime history. It is home port of the world famous Bluenose schooner and a stage of living history where you can still find privateers and pirates haunting the ports and villages. Experience the many festivals, venture into untamed wilderness, challenge yourself on the water or spend the day exploring the many shops and award winning restaurants.

All areas covered in this guide are easily accessed from both Provincial Highways #101 & #103, and Rural Highways #1 & #3. This guide is #2 in a set of four See & Do Guide Maps that cover all of Southwest Nova Scotia, available from all Provincial Visitor Information Centres, and online at our website.
